Regency ville is the most common house model one can think of. These are the most popular house model of the houses. Every builder designs and builds houses based on these models and specifications. In the image one can see two types of house models. One is the basic line and the second is villa. For best returns you can buy villas from £20k to 150k house. A good tip is to go to the Real Estate and select the research for the best trading values in your area. You will find that pricing depends on the size of the house, quality of the area and property. Regency village Regency is a village located in the Midlands region of England, and is a part of the larger area called Staffordshire. The village itself is unique amongst other villages for being relatively small and it does not have a school. The main reason for this is its high population density. The village comprises mainly of old farm houses and a few shops. It is small and lonely due to all the housing developments that have been built in Staffordshire. This unique village has been around since the early 19th century and is mentioned in the Domesday book. This was the only village in Staffordshire that was under the direct influence of the Crown and therefore was not part of the Cistercian Abbey, Atherstone. Due to the lack of space, the village of Regency was connected to the nearest town Atherstone by a main road. In early years, the village was not connected to the railway network due to the slowness of its village green. Regency village contains many old buildings; however, the lack of space and services make them less desirable than the vast majority of other villages. The little that is available as a service is the only reason that Regency is ever going to grow. Due to the development of nearby Stafford-Stoke on Trent there has been very little village development. Some new homes have been built but this is more a response to the shortage of properties than a cause of its own. Housing development has made it less desirable as a place to live, and younger people are choosing to live elsewhere. The village has lost hundreds of houses to new housing developments and is now suffering. If you are still willing to live in the area, there are several other villages in the surrounding area that offer more space and food options. Located near the base of the Churn Hills, Regency is popular for
