SEPTEMBER 25, 2007 Senna takes pole position in Barcelona Michele Senna has taken the pole position for the Spanish grand prix in a sensational qualifying performance at Barcelona. The defending champion and Scuderia Ferrari reserve driver set a best lap of 1m30.292s in the final moments of qualifying, taking the top spot by 1.479s ahead of his teammate Felipe Massa. Both Senna and Massa shared the F111 with the new Renault engine, the first of the season. The two drivers are closely matched this season - the Brazilian leads the championship by seven points with 17 races remaining, while the Brazilian's superior Pirelli tyres has played a major part in Massa's title charge so far. Senna's victory in qualifying is his second in Barcelona in the past two years, the first coming in 2003, but this time Massa is better placed for the race, having qualified fifth, just ahead of Michael Schumacher, and half a second ahead of Romain Grosjean. The top 10 is completed by Mika Hakkinen, David Coulthard and Pedro de la Rosa. Jenson Button, who will start 15th on the grid due to a change in the 'grid penalty' for McLaren, has been handed a place on the back of the grid by race stewards after he was found to have exceeded his maximum number of engine components by 14. Massa, who was unlucky not to start the race in second place behind Hamilton, said: "Our strategy was good and we could have also arrived on the podium, but unfortunately we didn't have enough left in the tyres to make it at the end of the race. "The Ferraris were fantastic. They were both on the same strategy - we were in the same pit stops and there was nothing to choose between the two of us. I did everything I could during the race to maximise what we had." Senna said: "It's been a very good day. I set the fastest lap, Fernando had a good race, so we can be satisfied. The team had a good race and the team is doing a good job for us. We are really pleased with our overall performance." The Spanish grand prix continues tomorrow with the first of 19 races on the F1 calendar this year. Hamilton leads the championship by a comfortable margin with 56 points, while his championship rival Schumacher is
