According to the official website, Cain & Abel is a Password recovery tool for Microsoft Operating Systems. It allows easy recovery of various kinds of Passwords by sniffing the network, cracking encrypted Passwords using Dictionary, Brute-Force and Cryptanalysis attacks, recording VoIP conversations, decoding scrambled Passwords, recovering wireless network keys, revealing Password boxes, uncovering cached Passwords and analyzing routing protocols. Now its time to speak about the cracker tab,the most important feature of Cain.When Cain captures some LM and NTLM hashes or any kind of Passwords for any supported protocols, Cain sends them automatically to the Cracker tab.We will import a local SAM file just for demonstration purposes to illustrate this point.Here is how to import the SAM file: The basic password cracking algorithms are the same for all hashes. Different algorithms and modes can be used for different hashes. The table below shows basic password cracking algorithms in use. Variables are both constant and variable depending on the hash and the algorithm. For instance, bcrypt generates a salt, and uses the index into the salt table, cbc is a mode that requires a 8 byte constant for the mode. Passwords cracked with one of the alternatives above is by no means a guarantee that the password is correct. You should always use the suggested alternative input when the Password hash is cracked to see if the Password is correct. Creating a Password and using it in another site is the best solution. Password cracking requires constant calculation of a hash value to start a password search. This forces a tradeoff between the time taken to calculate a hash value and the time taken to calculate a hash value repeatedly. To facilitate brute forcing with the data rate limit in place on most FTP servers, many FTP servers employ the use of a compressed format for transfer of data, such as.rp2,.rp3, or.w3, resulting in the use of a specialized brute force algorithm such as S9x for solving the Rabin-Karp cipher. 5ec8ef588b
